Makkelijk

Just across the German border at Kerkrade, you can see and feel everything that you are abroad. In the valley of the meandering Worm brook you will see spectacular high and low differences, cuddly German houses and real rough rocks.

The Pauline von Borghese walking route takes you through an unspoilt nature reserve where the kingfisher and the beaver feel at home. If you're hungry for coffee, you can return to civilization at the picturesque village of Kohlscheid.
